A Note from Pastor Todd...

Candle Blower Outers

This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine...

This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine...

This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine...

Let it shine, let it shine, let it shine.

As we transition into a new year (How is it 2026 already?!) there are plenty of things to think about and look forward to, Rather than talking or thinking about any resolutions, I have a different question for you to consider: Are you a candle blower outer? Have you surrounded yourself with any candle blower outers? In order to answer those questions, you obviously need to know what the heck I'm talking about! You may have heard me mention Brene Brown before in sermons. She is one of my favorite authors and podcasters. I find her to be someone who can take academic and psychological jargon and explain it in a way that makes it so accessible. In one of the interviews or talks she was giving she talked about candle blower outers in relation to parenting. Here's what she had to say...

"One of the things we talk a lot about in our family with our kids starting in third or fourth grade when friendship can get dicey is 'candle blower outers'. And this is a big lesson we teach our kids: 'You've got this flame. This is your spirit. This is your soul. This is your light. Sometimes it will shine really, really bright and you want to surround yourself with people who, when it's shining bright, think 'Wow, what a beautiful light.' And you want to be the type of friend that when your friend's light is shining you say, 'Man, that's a great light.' And you want friends who protect your light. We don't want to surround ourselves with candle blower outers. We want someone who has room in their life for our light because our light comes with us.'"

In Matthew 5 at the beginning of what is now referred to as the Sermon on the Mount Jesus said the following: "¹⁴ You are the light of the world. A city on top of a hill can't be hidden.¹⁵ Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a basket. Instead, they put it on top of a lampstand, and it shines on all who are in the house. ¹⁶ In the same way, let your light shine before people, so they can see the good things you do and praise your Father who is in heaven." But can we let that light shine if the people around us are finding ways to dim or blow it out? It certainly makes it much more difficult. Similarly are we being candle magnifiers for others in our lives? Or are we jealous and trying to find ways to dampen their light? Worth considering.

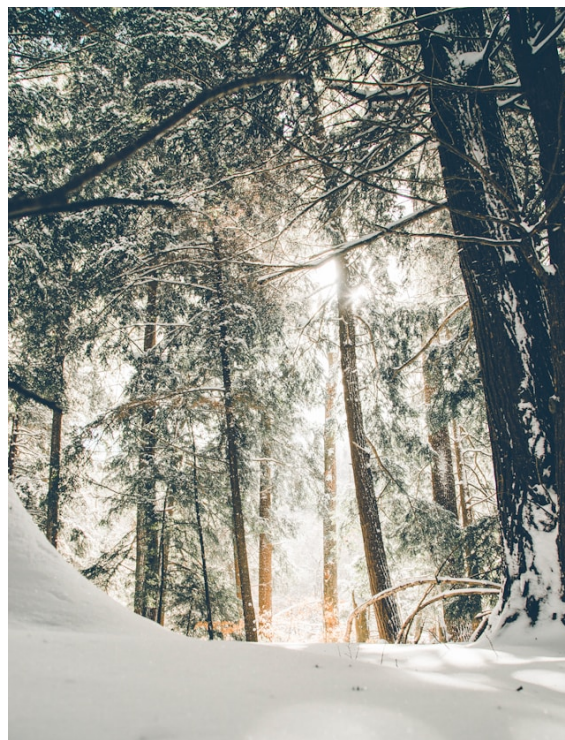

Grace and peace to you as we begin anew. Let your light shine in the new year.

It's that time of year again for the PW to put together hygiene kits. One of the most successful projects of the Sandston Presbyterian Women is the assembly of hygiene kits that are sent to Church World Services for distribution to disaster areas around this county. Monetary donations are sought from the congregation for the items required for the kits. Since 2018, we have assembled 100 kits per year!!! That translates to helping 600 people during their time of need. Thanks to the congregation's help in making this possible. Donations for the 2026 campaign can be given to Pat Fitzgerald or Kathy Wright. The deadline is February 1st. Checks must be made payable to Sandston Presbyterian Women. Thank you!!!
